Chouteau Landfill May Open Again

Efforts to reopen the old Chouteau Island landfill were strongly opposed by members of the Madison county board of supervisors at a regular meeting Wednesday morning in Edwardsville.

But the legality of preventing such use of the land was questioned by Marshall Smith, assistant state's attorney, who said he had researched several parts of the laws dealing with sanitation, zoning and property rights.

Carl Buehler, assistant Granite City township supervisor and chairman of the board's sanitation committee, disclosed plans for the landfill and claimed that he and his committee are opposed to use of the land for fill purposes.

He also was critical of Jack Clifford, county building official, for assisting in the plans. The property, adjacent to the Murphy of St. Louis, and Buehler later said Leo Abel would be the operator. Abel, former operator of the MAL landfill, was at the meeting but left after the discussion was ended.

Closed in 1968 Buehler noted that the state had ordered the landfill closed in March 1968 but the operators defied the order, causing the county to close it on April 4, 1968, for violations of Regulations.

He said that the Chouteau Island Corp., which operated it, withdrew its bond and had not attempted to obtain another license, indicating that it had decided to close, and that legal non-conforming use of the land no longer applied to the agricultural zoned tract.

Smith, with reluctance, said that he was unable to prove the intentions of the operators in court. He added that he was sympathetic with the board in the matter.

Buehler received approval of

Kozielek Madison Acting Mayor

Succeeds Late Mayor Maeras; Election to Be Held in 6 Months

Third Ward Alderman Raymond F. Kozielek was selected as acting mayor of the city of Madison during a regular meeting of the Madison city council Tuesday night.

He succeeds veteran Mayor Stephen Maeras, who died Monday morning. The meeting opened with a moment of silence observed in his honor.

Kozielek was nominated by senior Alderman John Haynes of the Fifth Ward who, with Third Ward Alderman Christ Costoff, was on the nominating committee. The new acting mayor was elected unanimously.

In making the nomination, Haynes said: "This is an occupation I don't enjoy doing. It leaves kind of a hollow spot in our hearts, but business must go on."

Responding, Kozielek said: "I sincerely thank you for this opportunity. I do not relish this position. It has grave responsibilities. Mayor Maeras served capably and well. He was a tremendous figure."

He did not propose to be his successor. However, as Mr. Haynes said, business must go on and I will go on as the law requires until his successor and my successor is elected."

Theft of 50 brass bars worth a value of more than $5500 from the Madison Aluminum Foundry, 15th and Benton streets, was reported by police among a series of crimes occurring in the Quad-City area since Monday.

Entry to the foundry during the night was gained by breaking a window on the northwest side of the building. The burglars hauled away 50 brass bars weighing 300 pounds each and valued at 55 cents a pound, police said.

A hair piece valued at $500, a dozen straight-edge razors, two bath hair brushes, change from a soda machine and two comics were stolen in a burglary at Ron's barber shop, 2720 Nameoki road, during the night. It was reported at 8:20 a.m. today. Entry was gained by breaking a rear window.

Funds Owed Venice District Stall VLTC Bill Payment

For the second consecutive month, Venice school officials Monday night declined to approve payment of mostly bills to operate the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center until funds still owed the district are received from the Illinois Department of Public Aid and the U.S. Department of Labor.

At a regular meeting, Venice Supt. John O. Pier said that reimbursement claims submitted by the district now total about $75,000.

Payment was withheld on a monthly bill list amounting to $8629. Similar action was taken last month on expenditures totaling $8042.

Salaries of teachers and others employed at the adult vocational training school have been paid by the district and will continue to be paid, regardless of delayed reimbursement from the state's sponsoring agencies, Supt. Pier said.

Faculty members at the center are hired by Venice school district, which maintains administrative control, while the center's operations are financed with state and federal funds.

Public aid expenditures connected with VLTC programs in Granite City District 9 and Madison District 12 appeared certain today as nominating petitions were placed in circulation in advance of the opening of the school election filing period next week.

Candidates may begin filing petitions next Wednesday at the administration offices of all three Quad-City school districts in Granite City, Madison and Venice. Sleepy Bandit Dozes; Victim Summons Police

A bandit who fell asleep in the back seat after robbing a Granite City taxicab driver of $20 found himself in the arms of the law when he awakened in Alton early Tuesday morning.

Field for robbery and as a Jackson, Mich., parole violator is Larry C. Brown, 22, of St. Louis, who was armed with a knife that he pulled on the arresting officer.

Brown showed no weapon when he robbed Benjamin Daniels, 2639 Nameoki drive, a driver for Checker Taxicab Co. He put his hand in a pocket threateningly when he demanded the driver's money.

Daniels told police he picked up Brown at the GEM store on Route 111, and Brown asked to be taken to Alton.

After the robbery, Daniels kept driving to Alton and upon reaching the Alton city limits noticed that Brown had dozed. He used the two-way radio in the cab to notify his dispatcher who called Alton police.

As the officers were about to make the arrest in the 400 block of East Broadway in Alton, Brown awakened and attempted to give the money back to Daniels.

Action On Chiefs Is Stalled For Week

GC Council Overrides Mayor's Program for Women Desk Clerks

Granite City council action to take over authority from the mayor for appointment of the fire and police chiefs was stalled for a week Monday night, but the council members did vote to override the mayor's assignment of two women to the police desk to relieve patrolmen for outside duty.

Ordinances giving the council authority to name the two chiefs were up for final adoption Monday night, but deferral action was requested by Alderman Boker and Rutledge, preventing any debate.

No petitions opposing the council's power move were submitted, although they are in circulation and now are expected at next Monday's session.

Opposition to the assignment of a police secretary and the city hall switchboard operator to the police desk was brought out early in the council session with a letter from the Police Union. The debate lasted nearly 45 minutes, with the council voting 11-2-2 "to concur with the police union's request to remove the women from the police department radio room."

The next motion was for the council to override the mayor's assignment of the women and to "restore the switchboard operator." That motion was approved 10-3-3, but there was no indication the city hall switchboard would be placed back in operation.

Mayor Plans No Change Mayor Parney pointed out the council had not come up with any economy moves in the city's deficit, and he planned no changes in his assignment of the two women Monday night. He said such time there was an ordinance that specified the desk clerks were to be qualified patrolmen.

The council's next move was to instruct the city attorney to prepare such an ordinance for the council to pass Monday night session, specifying the assignments would be at the discretion of the police chief and that there would be no increase in the size of the department.

Re-installation of the switchboard was indicated, but there were no demands for such action by the council.

Alderman A. Robertson requested that the switchboard be restored at least until the end of the fiscal year, but other council members voiced opposition to this move. Boker said he believed the city hall needed a switchboard, but only if all patrolmen and all city phones required to go through the board.

Parney said that he had demanded by the council for the street department and the police department, and Mayor Parney pointed out that left too few lines to necessitate a switchboard.

The council gave no indication what duties would be assigned to the switchboard operator when she is removed from her assignment to the police desk.

In a letter to the council, the

4 GC Policemen Attending Law Enforcement Classes

As part of a continuing effort to update and improve the quality of police services in the community, four Granite City patrolmen are now enrolled in a certified two-year course in "Law Enforcement" at Belleville Township Junior College.

Officers enrolled in the pilot program, through which they can earn an associate college degree, are Patrolmen Dennis Chenault, Robert Astorian, Kelly Hodges and Richard Woods.

To help defray cost of attending college, checks amounting to $270 were presented to the officers by the Law and Order committee of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce, Chief Veizer said.

Each student-officer received a check from Donald Adams, Law and Order committee chairman. Also on hand for the presentation were At. Irving State Jr. and Chief Veizer, both members of the Chamber committee. The project was unanimously approved by the Chamber's board of directors.

The local policemen began their studies the week of Jan. 26, and attend classes twice a week for a total of four hours.

Priest to Celebrate Latin Mass on Sunday

The eight o'clock Mass at Sacred Heart Catholic Church Sunday will be recited in the Latin language, Rev. Kevin Sullivan, assistant pastor, announced today.

Latin was the traditional language used exclusively at Mass until the liturgical renewal introduced a few years ago, he noted.

This renewal brought forth many changes, including permission for Mass to be celebrated in the language of the people, Father Sullivan said.

The priest, who will celebrate the Mass, asserted that he himself clearly prefers the Mass in English and welcomes other innovations to be introduced on Palm Sunday.

However, he contends, in any age of such transition, if all the varieties permitted were made available to the people, it would ease the transitional process.

In many parishes, the traditional Latin Mass, so long established and familiar to the Catholic layman, was suddenly discarded in favor of a new form of Mass worship, Father Sullivan said.

Many of the people who resisted these revised forms of Mass did so simply because of inadequate explanation and preparation of the people for such changes, he added.

"I am confident that if the Latin Mass was said at least occasionally, the people would realize themselves that despite the inherent beauty and dignity of Latin, the new forms of the Mass led themselves to more meaning and participation by the people."

The adult choir will sing familiar Latin hymns, including "Veni Jesu," "O Sanctissima," "Pani Angelicus" and "Ave Maria."

Miss Woodward, 26, Teacher, Dies Unexpectedly

Miss Nancy Ann Woodward, 26, of 2823 Madison avenue, a school teacher and lifelong Granite Cityan, was found dead in the garage at her home by her father about 6:45 p.m. Monday. She was pronounced dead upon arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital by Deputy Coroner Raymond Thomas.

A preliminary report from an autopsy conducted this week showed no indication of foul play, and that Miss Woodward apparently died of a heart failure. Miss Woodward had not been ill.

She was found in the garage by her father. She was in a kneeling position, leaning against the car. The auto motor had been turned off and the keys were in her purse.

Packages spilled on the floor of the garage indicated she had been shopping at a grocery and a bakery before arriving home, and when she failed to come into the house, her father went to the garage. Her parents took her to the hospital.

Miss Woodward was a member of St. Joseph Catholic Church and belonged to the National Council of English Teachers and the American Association of University Women.

Vandals Active In 7 GC Cases

Seven cases of vandalism were reported to Granite City police yesterday and this morning.

Dr. John Vasiloff, 2008 Cleveland blvd., reported Wednesday that four hoodlums on the outside of his building were broken off at the ground by two small boys. He held the boys for police and they were referred to the juvenile officer.

Charles Stief, 714 Twenty-sixth place, reported Wednesday that during the night someone tried to jimmy the left vent window of his 1968 auto in an attempt to steal the car. The spring was bent, upholstery was torn and chrome was damaged. Lloyd Holder, 2542 East 24th street, reported Wednesday night that vandals broke the bathroom and storm windows of his home. He said they would knock on the door and then run when he answered it. Police found the front plate glass window broken at Groves Plumbing & Heating Co., 245 East 24th street, last night.

Richard Allen, 2828 Iowa street, reported at 3:30 a.m. today that the left rear window of his station wagon was broken while it was parked in front of his home.

is to be held within six months, according to state statutes.

The period will provide sufficient time for publications, filing period, withdrawal and ballot preparation.

A resolution authorizing Mayor Maeras was prepared by Second Ward Alderman Richard L. Kistner, with a copy to be forwarded to his wife, Mrs. Nigel Maeras. The legal department also was instructed to prepare another resolution.

Kistner's resolution was read by City Clerk John Bellicoff, who sobbed momentarily. Mayor Kozielek proclaimed a 30-day mourning period, with flags to be placed at half staff. City business closed at noon Wednesday to permit all but a few standby employees to attend funeral services at 2 p.m.

Today that someone broke two side windows of his auto. Billy M. Childress, 2202 Woodlawn avenue, reported at 7:10 a.m. today that a brick was used to break the right door glass of his 1954 truck while it was parked in front of his home.

FRIDAY, $1.29 AT GRANTS

Mayor Kozielek, 43, of 1703 Sixth street, alderman for the past nine years, is a native and lifelong resident of Madison. He also has served as treasurer of the Madison school district.

He is engaged in commercial and multi-dwelling development for the Combined Investment Co. of Granite City.

Kozielek formerly was employed as an electrician with the Terminal Railroad Association, as a realtor with a Granite City real estate firm, and as an associate of Acme Investment Co. of St. Louis.

Navy Veteran
He attended Madison public schools, Navy service schools, LaSalle University at Chicago and Washington University, St. Louis.

He is a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church, St. Mary's Booster Club, St. Stanislaus Lodge 1094, Madison Amvets Post 204, Venice-Madison American Legion Post 307, the Madison County Democratic Organization and the Madison City Organization. He is unmarried.

In the only other business of the meeting, the council approved a contract with MacIair Asphalt Co. of Collinsville for purchase of 200 tons of asphalt on a sole bid of $1700. The bid was approved by the state highway division, which was represented at the bid opening Tuesday afternoon. The material is to be used in the city's 1970 street maintenance program.

MORE ABOUT Action On

police union pointed out, "We feel that the desk officer is one of the most important and demanding functions of our police department and should be in the hands of an experienced and well-informed police officer who has a thorough knowledge of police department operations. He should also be familiar with the duties and problems of the officers while on patrol. This is a must in order to insure the citizens of Granite City prompt and efficient police service to which they are entitled."

"This also would insure the safety and well-being of all police officers."

The union pointed out the department's manual of rules requires the desk officer to check the cell block "to see that all prisoners are decent before allowing female visitors to enter. With at least 80% of all prisoners being male, the purpose of this section would be defeated by having anyone other than a police officer as a desk clerk, the letter stated.

"During the time that Mrs. Buttery and Mrs. Hall have been working at the desk," the letter continued, "they have been given Saturdays and Sundays as their days off. Prior to this time, the desk officers have worked in the regular shift rotation, so that all officers receive Saturday and Sunday off when they reach a certain position on the schedule."

Due to this condition, no officer working the morning or afternoon shift will get a weekend off—excluding the chief, who is not a desk officer.

In a separate letter from City Atty. Scroggins giving an opinion on the assignments, the attorney stated there is no city law prohibiting a woman from performing the desk duties.

"In order to make my position of the union stand, it certainly is within the power of the corporate authorities, that is, the city council, to provide for how many people may be employed by the police department and to restrict its members to a specified number and not to allow expansion of the same. However, from my examination of the existing ordinances and the statutes, I am unable to say that the mayor's action of Jan. 30 violates any city action previously taken."

Kicking off the debate, Alderman Parmley noted the police department ordinances makes no provision for "she's." Scroggins replied that interpretations of state laws show the terms he and she to be interchangeable.

Nonn asked if the city could pay the transferred switchboard operator from general funds, since she is now assigned to the police department. Parmley replied that all police expenses are paid from general funds. There is no special police tax.

The mayor reviewed the history of police desk clerk dating back to the 1930's when civilians were hired, later to be designated policemen. Chief Moerlein, Parmley, Robertson, Poulos, Green, Morien and Schuler. Opposed were Rutledge and Baker. Alderman Boyd, Dawes and Jarrett were absent.

On Moerlein's motion to override the mayor and restore the switchboard operator, the vote was 10-to-3, with Schuler joining Rutledge and Baker in voting "no."

The third vote, with only Alderman Rutledge opposed, was for the city attorney to prepare an ordinance specifying that the desk clerk is to be a police officer.

Moerlein questioned changes in the appropriation ordinance without the consent of the council, since the budget does show a figure for the switchboard operator's salary. Nonn added that the mayor has no right to increase the size of the police department.

Robertson pointed out the attorney had stated the mayor could not make the changes without the consent of the council. "What if we don't consent?" he asked.

Poulos then called for a vote on the police union request. "The request is a little out of order," he said.

Mayor Quoted Manual
He quoted the police manual requiring any police grievances to be taken up first with higher police authorities before coming before the council. Chief Veizer was asked if he had seen the union letter, and he answered that he had read it prior to the council session.

Robertson suggested, "Why not return back to normal? Let the switchboard until the end of the fiscal year. The city's fiscal year ends April 30. The council said that with the private line authorized by the city for the police department, the switchboard would be returned to the city and that's not economical. He added that 90% of the cities have women operating police phones for the past several years."

"I don't think you have the authority to make the change," Robertson told the mayor. Parmley commented, "I think I do."

Moerlein pointed out the city and city of Rubella vaccine was located in the Quad-Cities last Friday, permitting the age level to be extended to preschoolers.

Earlier, it was announced, only kindergarten through third grade pupils would receive the vaccinations, but a double quantity of Rubella vaccine was located in the Quad-Cities last Friday, permitting the age level to be extended to preschoolers.

LAST RITES for Mayor Stephen A. Maeras of Madison were attended yesterday afternoon by crowd that overflowed Madison Union Methodist Church and congested traffic for blocks around . Mayor Maeras, who died of a heart attack early Monday morning, was buried in Sunset Hill Cemetery in Edwardsville township.

Debate Continues

However, the debate was not over.

Schuler asked Chief Veizer what he would do when visitors appeared at the jail. The chief replied that the woman would call upon the officer in charge to inspect the cells.

Moerlein asked, "Do you think the women are qualified in two weeks?"

Veizer answered that they are qualified to handle the telephones, radio, teletype and booking of prisoners.

Alderman Morien said he believed the women desk clerks would be "calling in a parolman all the time."

Parmley commented that it appeared the job was being changed from a desk sergeant post to that of a dispatcher.

Nonn said he had no objection to removal of the switchboard, but questioned the legality of the transfer of women.

Parmley replied that the city needed a proper law for designating desk men to be police officers. If the policy was to be followed properly.

Robertson asked if the city could pay the transfer of women from general funds.

The vote on support of the police union came after Alderman Green asked if the desk jobs were safe for women. Chief Veizer said there was a certain amount of danger.

Veizer said that the police union was Alderman Nonn, Whitmer, Basarich, Dallas, Moerlein, Parmley, Robertson, Poulos, Green, Morien and Schuler. Opposed were Rutledge and Baker. Alderman Boyd, Dawes and Jarrett were absent.

On Moerlein's motion to override the mayor and restore the switchboard operator, the vote was 10-to-3, with Schuler joining Rutledge and Baker in voting "no."

The third vote, with only Alderman Rutledge opposed, was for the city attorney to prepare an ordinance specifying that the desk clerk is to be a police officer.

Moerlein questioned changes in the appropriation ordinance without the consent of the council, since the budget does show a figure for the switchboard operator's salary. Nonn added that the mayor has no right to increase the size of the police department.

Robertson pointed out the attorney had stated the mayor could not make the changes without the consent of the council. "What if we don't consent?" he asked.

Poulos then called for a vote on the police union request. "The request is a little out of order," he said.

Mayor Quoted Manual
He quoted the police manual requiring any police grievances to be taken up first with higher police authorities before coming before the council. Chief Veizer was asked if he had seen the union letter, and he answered that he had read it prior to the council session.

Robertson suggested, "Why not return back to normal? Let the switchboard until the end of the fiscal year. The city's fiscal year ends April 30. The council said that with the private line authorized by the city for the police department, the switchboard would be returned to the city and that's not economical. He added that 90% of the cities have women operating police phones for the past several years."

"I don't think you have the authority to make the change," Robertson told the mayor. Parmley commented, "I think I do."

Moerlein pointed out the city and city of Rubella vaccine was located in the Quad-Cities last Friday, permitting the age level to be extended to preschoolers.

Earlier, it was announced, only kindergarten through third grade pupils would receive the vaccinations, but a double quantity of Rubella vaccine was located in the Quad-Cities last Friday, permitting the age level to be extended to preschoolers.

struction program (WIN) at Venice-Lincoln.

A total of $19,800 is due the district for bills paid between July and October, and about $15,000 for expenses in the program from November through January.

A $10,680 check for claims filed between February and July 1969 was received by the district in December. Under the contract agreement, monthly expenses at the center are paid by the Venice school district.

Transportation Costs
Among the bills withheld for payment by the board Monday night, one amounted to $4327, due the Bi-State Development Agency for transportation services to the center during December and January.

Pier said adult students using the school bus are transported from various sections of Madison county, including areas near Alton and Fairmount City. Assistant Supt. Robert N. Vickers said conditional approval has been granted for a state-sponsored vocational program at Venice high school. State school officials notified the Venice district that a $900 grant will be made to operate AVIS business education and marketing course.

A second vocational course—homemaking and consumer education—also has received tentative approval. Vickers said that application for both programs was submitted late last fall.

Measles inoculations
Letters advising parents of a free German measles inoculation program currently are being prepared. Pier informed the board members. The vaccine, available at the Venice school on Tuesday, March 10, will be distributed to youngsters between the age of 12 months and the third grade level.

Hours when state technicians will conduct the inoculation and other specific information about the program are to be announced in the Press-Record, the administrator said. Parental permission is required before children can receive the vaccine, he noted.

Venice Tops Columbia; May Meet in District

Red Devils outplayed the burly Columbia team for an 84-70 win here Tuesday.

The victory signals bright chances for the Devils at next week's O'Fallon district tournament, as their semifinal foe is likely to be Columbia.

Press-Record Sports

One more regular season outting remains, slated at 8 p.m. Saturday at Alton Marquette. Marquette has a record of 3-12 and Venice, winning the last three, has a 17-7 mark.

VHS Coach Bill Ohlendorf, obviously pleased Tuesday night's victory, said the team "We played really well, without any basic mistakes. Columbia physically hurt us inside near the goal, but after the first quarter, they could not set up their offense."

Momentum Developing

Even considering Venice's recent tally of six wins in seven contests, Coach Ohlendorf remarked, "We haven't done this well since the Assumption game (12 outings ago, Jan. 14). I hope this game gives us the proper momentum."

Though Cedric Gardner was home with the flu, Fessor Gray scored like a double-dutch, ringing up 38 points. Andrei Johnson gave 14 points of support, with double-figure backing also from Doug Johnson, 11, and Harold Gorman, 10. Jim Ohlendorf scored six, Carris four and Herbert Buford, one.

By quarters, Venice led by 18-4, 39-29 and 65-47.

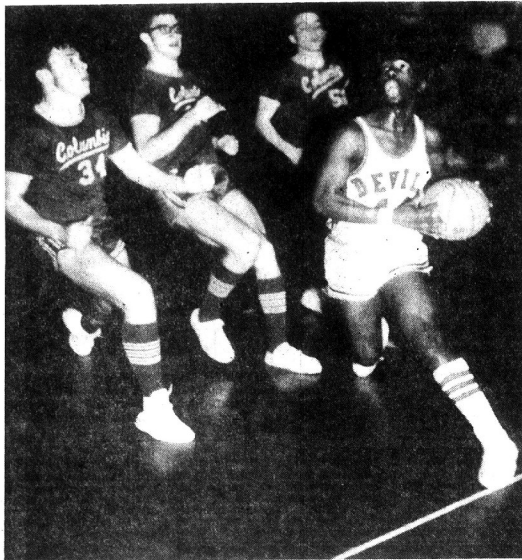

Two Red Devils had a 30-24 field goal advantage and a 24-22 edge in free throws.

Meet Lebanon Tuesday

Next Tuesday, the Devils will open the O'Fallon district tournament against strong Lebanon (12-10 record). Columbia (13-10) will meet St. Henry Prep of Belleville (4-15) later the same evening.

On Wednesday, it will be the O'Fallon (16-8) vs. Duplo (1-20) and Belleville Althoff (7-16) vs. Lovejoy (2-11).

In semifinals Thursday, Tuesday's victors will meet and then Wednesday's victors will clash. If the seeded favorites win, semifinalists will pair No. 1 son gave 14 points of support, with double-figure backing also from Doug Johnson, 11, and

Poised Warriors Off Target Too Often; 3rd Place Still in Range

Warrior basketball players will wrap up their Southwest Conference season at Alton at 8 p.m. Friday.

The GCHS ball bouncers will be seeking to secure sole possession of third place in the loop instead of a tie for the (second place), show spot with Belleville West.

The Maroons ended their league schedule with a 6-5 mark. Granite City is a 6-5. Collinsville clinched the title last weekend with 11-1 while Alton, 8-3, is quietly in second.

On the road again Saturday, the Warriors are at Belleville Althoff for an 8 p.m. tipoff.

Won 74-65 Here

On Jan. 10, Granite City hosted and thumped the Red Birds, 74-65. It was after that game that the Warriors' shooting percentage dropped into low gear. Except for scoring points, which, regrettably for GCHS has been the measure of winning or losing, the Warriors have shown consistent playing excellence, especially in their defensive prowess.

An overtime two-point win over the Wood River Oilers Friday was built upon the press. During the fourth and overtime periods, the defense allowed Wood River only nine shots while Granite City put up 22 attempts, translating into a 34-22 point advantage. GCHS lost the ball on nine turnovers while taking advantage of 18 Oiler turnovers.

Almost Upset Top Teams

The press also was effective against Waukegan and Collinsville, ranked fourth and fifth in some state ratings.

Against all opponents this season, the Warriors have a forced 23 turnovers per game while giving up possession only seven times a game.

Collinsville, coached by Virgil Fletcher, under whom GCHS Coach Don Deterding once played, saw its famed press come out second best in the first meeting, the turnover comparison was 22-17; in the second meeting, the Warriors' were ahead 44% to 37% from the field and had an edge at the foul line. Last Friday, the Warriors did not run away with the game because the Oilers' field goal marksmanship was 59% to GCHS' 50%.

During the early part of this season, the Warriors on occasion made nearly 60% shooting seem easy. (And it always looks easy from the grandstands.)

At that time, they were just out of statewide mention with final-inning losses to Collinsville by two points and Waukegan by one point. But the inexplicable shooting slump then set in.

Hit Depths, Begin Climb

The poor foul accuracy bottomed out three games ago, with 32% and a 57-51 loss to East St. Louis.

Against the low-pressure defense of Wood River, the Warriors worked the ball inside to notch an improved percentage.

Notably against the Oilers, Dave Metzger's marksmanship from the corner regained its early season form. The outcourt popping of Metzger and Steve Harris with some help from Terry Alkins has frequently kept a balanced scoring threat, much required by the Warriors, who are usually lacking in height when facing top-ranking teams.

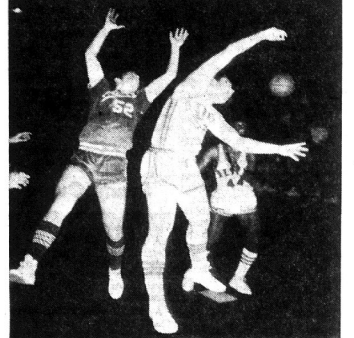

6-3 But Too Short

At Alton, Granite City's 6-3 Jeff Boyles, likely to be matched with a 6-6 Redbird and Boyles' teammates will generally be at a similar two or three-inch disadvantage.

Alton has beaten Collinsville this season but bowed to the Hawks last Friday.

Granite City has won three of its past four outings. It has beat Belleville West and lost to East St. Louis, both being reversals of earlier results, and then topped Edwardsville and beat Wood River, another reversal of an earlier decision.

GCHS will seek to avoid another reversal tomorrow night.

IF I CAN'T HAVE IT, neither can you. In a tussle for possession, Red Devil Herbert Bufford (foreground) flings the ball from the arms of Columbia's Haberl (52) during Tuesday's Venice basketball victory.

193 Deer Bagged In Special Hunt

A total of 193 deer was bagged during the special three-day hunt on the Union county and Horseshoe Lake waterfowl areas in southern Illinois. The areas were open for hunting Jan. 23-25, inclusive.

Jack Calhoun, leader of the forest game project for the state Department of Conservation, said sportsmen killed 123 deer on the Union county area and 70 deer on Horseshoe Lake. A 10-point buck that weighed 167 pounds was the largest checked in on the Union county area. On Horseshoe Lake, two 180-pound bucks were bagged. One was a nine-pointer, the other carried seven points.

"In these refuges have been protected for many years," Calhoun said. "The populations had increased to the point where control was desirable. We could not trap enough of them to put much of a dent in the herds so we opened the areas to a controlled hunt. This provided another recreational opportunity for sportsmen and helped to reduce the population."

Calhoun said that more than 4000 hunters applied for permits for the special season. The department issued 225 permits for the Union county area and 165 for Horseshoe Lake.

State Records at Stake as GCHS Hosts Sectional Wrestling Meet

Warrior matmen, having successfully extended Granite City's state record of 13 straight district wins, will wrestle this weekend at the sectional level in the Granite City sectional tournament Friday and Saturday.

Favorites along with GCHS include Belleville East and the Decatur high schools.

At the GCHS gym at 7 p.m. Friday, opening rounds will be in. Competition will resume Saturday at 1:30 p.m. with semifinals, and the finals are set for 7 p.m. Saturday.

Illinois high school association (IHSA) records show GCHS as having won more mat sectional titles than any school in the state. Also holding the state record for consecutive sectional team championships of 16, GCHS is a primary threat to all schools that will compete here, but there will be strong opposition.

Six Warriors will enter this sectional, wearing district crowns: 99-pound Bruce Miller, 107 Lenny Fuchs, 115 Len Wilson, 123 Al Bridgeman, 175 Steve Ganz and Heavyweight Dan James. Joining them is 130 Pay Burcham, a district runner-up, for a total of seven Warrior entries.

East St. Louis Lincoln, which lost the Wood River district title to GCHS, will enter eight grapplers.

Other schools with large numbers of qualifiers are Jacksonville 12, Belleville East eight, Quincy seven, Decatur McArthur six, Lawrenceville five and Springfield, five.

More entries came from: Steph Decatur, Springfield South-east, Roxana and CBC Quincy, each with Central, and Edwardsville, each three; and Carbondale, two.

Schools represented by one grappler each are: Wood River, Carrollton, East St. Louis, Murphysboro, Belleville Althoff, Springfield Lott, Belleville West, O'Fallon, Cahokia, Carlin, Argenta, Shelbyville and Mattoon.

Team points will be awarded according to one point for each wrestler for each of his match wins, with an extra point if the win was by a pin. There will be nine points for each weight class champion, six points for runner-up and three points for third.

Bridgeman, Burcham Veterans This will be the second year of sectional wrestling for Warriors Bridgeman and Burcham. Warrior foes to watch: 98-Miller's opening round foe is Springfield Southeast's Bob Sullivan.

107-Fuchs' first foe is Ted Brink of Quincy CBC.

115-Wilson starts out against Belleville East's Lee Hartman. Jacksonville's Rich Williams was sectional runner-up last year. Williams and his teammates this season, Southeast's Maurice Latham also is a sectional veteran.

123-Bridgeman, 34-1, sectional runner-up last year, faces Southeast's Gray Stone, first in 1969. Bridgeman's only loss came from Decatur Eisenhower's Rich Buckner; if Buckner and Bridgeman meet, it probably will be for the championship.

175-Ganz' initial encounter is with Southeast's Bob Martin. Other powers in this class are Central's Ken Brundich and Ty McMillan, a GCHS Holiday tourney champ.

BRAVES ALIVE IN MEET

Coolidge's 9th graders, who left apart in the championship of the Madison County Junior High Conference (MCHC) tourney, sinking only four field goals, bounced back to success at the start of their season finale tournament.

In the opening round of the North of Collinsville invitation to meet Tuesday, the Braves topped East of Alton, 36-29.

Couch, Rich Williams, attributes the win largely to a good defense which forced 13 turnovers, plus improvement in free throw accuracy, with 12 of 16 on target. The Braves sank 12 field goals and were paced by Coolidge's 16 points.

Other first-round results: Cahokia over Roxana 65-42, Webster of Collinsville over Central of Alton 55-43 and Belhato over North 49-43.

Tonight's semifinals: Coolidge vs. Belhato at 8:15 and Cahokia vs. Webster at 7:45. Finals are Friday with the third-place contest at 6:15 and the championship game at 7:45 p.m.

Webster, now in the opposite bracket from Coolidge, crushed the Braves last week for the MCHC tourney title, 53-17.

CHANDLER TOPS SOPHOMORES

Trojan sophomore topped Triad 69-54 here Monday. Tied 13-13 after the opening period, the Trojans led after the other halfers by 35-23 and 32-20.

Strongly-built 5-8 Ed Chandler paced the triumph with 24 points. He plays a fast game, situation and matches his taller opponents with his jumping ability, explains Coach Ted Fisk.

Other major MHS point contributors were Vernel Glasper, 17, and Terrence Young, 15.

Gray Averaging 23

Gray of Venice is the area's fifth best scorer with a 23.6 average per game. Tom Noel of MHS is averaging 19.9 for second best in Midwestern Conference basketball, and Dave Melzer of GCHS at 17.0 is sixth in the Southwestern Conference.

ROCA RAIDERS. The basketball Raiders compiled an 8-1 record in becoming the champions of the Granite City park district's High School league. They are, kneeling left to right: Mark Rigby, Dave Evans, Harry Diak, Mike Loftus and Dave Brewer. Standing: Earl Anderson, Tom Rushing, Rich Cardwell, Ralph Thompson and Coach Bob Allen.

13-9 Trojans to Visit 13-10 Belleville West

The basketball Trojans will face a man-to-man defense, against which they have been successful this season, in Friday's 8 p.m. visit to Belleville West.

The Maroons' dilemma will be how to handle Madison's fast string begun with a win over hapless Dupo, followed by a cold shooting evening's win at Highland which spotlighted the Trojans rebounding power. MHS outscored Highland 65-17.

MHS then won a mild upset, 66-59 over the league-leading Bethalto Eagles.

The Maroons' best scoring threats are Steve Craig, near the boards and Bob Stone from outcourt.

Cougars Bow Despite Essington Sumners

STU-SW lost 88-75 to the University of Missouri-St. Louis at Edwardsville high school Wednesday.

The 128 Riverman have always beaten the 6-15 Cougars in the three-year history of five games.

Rich Essington of Venice tallied 18 of his 25 points for STU-SW after the halftime, when his team trailed 43-32. His field goal with six minutes left cut the deficit to 68-60.

John Summers of Madison hit for 14 points. UMSL's Chuck Henson scored 26, backed by Dennis Caldwell's 21.

Maxvill Inks Pact

Cardinal Shortstop Dal Maxvill, a native Granite Cityan, is believed to have taken a $7000 pay cut in signing his 1970 contract this week, whittling his reported salary to $38,000. He hit only .175 last season but is expected to bounce back this year. His fielding retains the quality that Cardinal pitchers say adds their confidence and concentration.

Plane Club to Meet

The Navy carrier event will be the feature topic as the Friday Sky Stealers, airplane modelers, meet at 7:30 p.m. Triad at the home of John Blum, 2417 Glen place, South St. Louis. Yellow Jackets President Art Muser, experienced in area and national competition, will speak.

MORE ABOUT Chouteau

asked to write the opinion himself for the state.

The landfill operation should be prevented unless the operators go through the county zoning board of appeals, according to the committee. It then would have to win the approval of the full county board.

Walter Sparks, supervisor of Chouteau township where the landfill is located, moved that a permit for operation of a landfill be denied, but it was pointed out that an application for a permit has not been filed.

"Let him open without a permit, and then the county can come in and cut him down," Sparks said.

Buehler told the board that the ground had never been leveled after it was closed in 1968, and that a required two feet of ground was never applied.

Smith suggested that the board obtain an opinion from another lawyer, and offered to pay the legal fee, but the offer was turned down.

Kaseberg Reappointed
At the opening of the meeting Howard Kaseberg of Granite City was reappointed to a five-year term on the zoning board a motion to provide all facts and obtain an opinion from the Illinois attorney general, even though Smith said he would be of appeals. His current term expires tomorrow.

Because of the new Homestead Act, the county board of review was authorized to begin its work on April 1 rather than a later date. The law allows $1000 reductions on assessments of homes owned by persons over 65 years of age but they must be approved by the review board.

The supervisors approved a resolution calling for the annexation of the tuberculosis sanitarium property to the city of Edwardsville. It contains 500 acres. It was explained that the sewage plant on the property is nearly defunct, and a tap could be made into the city sewer.

It was announced that an operating agreement is being reached between the county's 708 mental health board and Alton's mental health board on an operation of a clinic there.

But Edward Vonnard of Alton complained that the board is still in a stalemate in its dispute with the Granite City board. He urged that rules be established to help both bodies be reached.

Harry Briggs, Nantooki township supervisor and legislative committee chairman, reported that the county has prepared an application for a $50,000 federal sewer study grant from the Housing & Urban Development agency, but that HUD is no longer accepting applications as it is out of funds.

He also reported that a conclusive resolution 4 being prepared to present to constitutional convention delegates to protect county rights in any changes of county government.

The state's attorney was requested to write the governor and the legislature on county items at Alton State Hospital on complaints of lack of security and hazards to patients, many of whom wander away.

The board approved a bid of $3970 from a Collinsville auto agency on the purchase of a 12-passenger civil defense van. B. E. Hohl of Granite City bid $2474.

Harold Landholt, board chairman, appointed Vonnard to the Southeastern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission's steering committee.

The board officially sent Mrs. Frances Roberts as Alton township supervisor. She succeeds her late husband, George Roberts.

A poll is to be taken among members on a suggestion to hold regular meetings at 6:30 p.m. instead of the current morning schedule.

Hit-and-Run Accident

Chamber Dinner Hosts Four Foreign Students

Four young foreign students of SIU-SW performed dances of their countries at the first 1970 Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce SIU Liaison Committee dinner held at the Sunbelt Country Club. More than 100 attended.

Miss Fetneh Askari of Tehran, Iran, an undergraduate student, also presented a dialogue on customs of their lands, members of the audience later joining in with questions. The students were introduced by Dr. R. Fred Chambers, foreign student advisor.

Miss Gursel presented a traditional Turkish dance. A Persian dance was performed by Miss Askari along with two sisters from Teheran, Misses Sima and Homa Yamin, undergraduate students. Mrs. Chambers had aided them in preparing appropriate costumes.

Customs contrast sharply between ultra-modern cities and rural villages, with the latter retaining such traditions as grooms and face veils for women, long wedding dowries by men, the gathering was told. Literacy is high, although many do not go to school beyond the elementary level, it was noted.

Both countries border Russia, but their image of the U.S. is generally favorable, although this is detracted from by some tourists, soldiers and motion pictures, the students related.

Sam Vadalabene, John Maeras Get Labor Backing

Endorsement of primary election candidates by COPE, or Political Education, for the 24th Congressional District and part of the 22nd District were approved last night by the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council in a meeting at the Labor Temple. Forty-one delegates representing 32 union locals confirmed the COPE recommendations.

In contested areas, the labor endorsement went to Sam Vadalabene of Edwardsville in the Democratic race for state senator of the 53rd District and to State Representatives Leland J. Kennedy of Alton and Horace Calvo of Granite City, who are seeking re-election, also on the Democratic ballot.

From among the five candidates seeking one Republican state representative post in the 58th District, the labor committee picked Charles "Bill" Burns of Granite City and George J. Leback of Collinsville for endorsement.

Only one endorsement was made at the county level. It went to John Maeras, incumbent Madison county treasurer who is seeking nomination as sheriff on the Democratic ballot in the March 17 primary.

While the endorsements include other candidates, all of them on the Democratic ballot, those candidates have no opposition in the primary balloting.

Black Labor Unit Seeks Changes in Freeze Thaw Plan

Revisions which are sought by the Metro-East Labor Council, Inc., in a plan proposed by Illinois Gov. Ogilvie to end the month highway fund freeze in the Madison-St. Clair county area are only "minor changes" and will be studied within the next few days by the governor and by area contractors who have approved the original program, according to Paul Wisner, the governor's acting director of the Office of Human Resources.

Wisner met in Edwardsville Tuesday with representatives of the Labor Council, and said after the meeting that he believed the session "was productive."

The meeting was closed to the press and details of the changes proposed by the labor council were not released.

Wisner said, however, that the proposal involved "minor changes" in the governor's original program and that he intends to present the recommendations to the governor and to officials of the Southern Illinois Builders Association which approved the governor's program within 24 hours after it was announced.

Labor Leaders Opposed
Labor union officials who also would be required to endorse the program, which calls for a system of training minority workers to qualify for employment on construction projects, have not yet responded publicly to the governor's proposal. Some union officials have indicated opposition to the plan and AFL-CIO construction union leaders meeting in Miami Beach, Fla., have announced they will provide funds to assist unions in publicizing their objections to the governor's plan.

SIBA officials said yesterday they are not at liberty to discuss the changes proposed in the meeting by the labor council. The Metro-East Labor Council represents the Negro community in Madison and St. Clair counties.

David Schaefer, president of the Metro-East Council, said the council had presented "some modifications" and added that "we tried to be as ethical as we can. We are not asking for the impossible."

County Land Use Plan Sent to Supervisors

The Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission has completed a general land use plan for Madison county and submitted it to the county board of supervisors for its review and evaluation during a meeting Wednesday morning.

The report, which took more than two years of survey and analysis work to prepare, was referred to the zoning committee of the board for study and recommendations.

Theodore Mikesell, executive director of the commission, said, "The preparation of a general land use and transportation plan for Madison county is one of the primary responsibilities of the commission, according to its state enabling legislation."

"The plan is a proposed statement of policy guidelines regarding desirable future development in Madison county and is subject to approval and official adoption by the county board of supervisors," he said.

ordinating Council, comprised an analysis of existing conditions within Madison and St. Clair counties and was helpful in identifying current problems in areas of development potential, Mikesell said. They concern population, economic base, transportation and land use.

The Madison county land use and transportation plan specifically indicates the type and intensity of various land uses and their location with respect to the transportation network and other uses.

According to Ronald Darden, project planner, "The plan provides for a logical developmental pattern for the existing and future land uses of the county; the plan is essential to insure the adequate design and location of streets, utilities, schools, parks and other public facilities."

It is based on an analysis of population, economic characteristics, physical land characteristics, proposed highway improvements, development potential and trends and existing or proposed public facilities.

Urban Growth
Major emphasis is placed on the importance of compact urban growth in the western half of the county, adjacent to the county's three urban complexes — the Tri-Cities, Alton-Wood River and Edwardsville-Collinsville.

This is due to the availability of urban services as water, sewer, police and fire protection as well as schools, parks, libraries and other community facilities.

It is suggested that future urban growth be developed adjacent to the urban complexes so that these services can be readily provided. This is recommended rather than allowing urban development to skip and develop in relatively isolated pockets in the county which urban services cannot be readily provided. Areas west of Interstate 55 was recommended for residential growth.

Shopping Facilities
Regional shopping facilities are proposed in three locations which are accessible to major traffic carriers, close proximity to higher density residential uses and close proximity to the major activity centers.

Areas for industrial development in the county have been located primarily in the American Bottoms. The areas designated industrial are advantageously located with respect to water, highway and rail transportation facilities.

Two large areas designated for industrial purposes which are not in the American Bottoms are at the intersection of the proposed northward extension of Interstate 255 and Interstate 140 and the intersection of Interstates 55-70 and Interstate 270.

The I-270 site is anticipated to develop for light industrial purposes as warehousing, light assembly manufacturing and other associated uses.

Price Bill Would Boost RR Retirement

Rep. Melvin Price, (D. 24th District) introduced legislation this week increasing railroad retirement benefits by 15%, retroactive to Jan. 1. The Congressman said such an increase would bring railroad retirees' pensions in line with recent increases received under Social Security.

"It is a matter of equity and fairness that our retired railroaders and their families receive at least the same benefit increase as approved in the 1969 Social Security Act Amendments," Price said.

With the cost of living spiraling, no relief in sight and the prospects of a simultaneous economic downturn, he said, "our families on fixed incomes need additional funds in order to merely survive."

The Price bill has been referred to the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee whose chairman Rep. Harley Staggers, (D. W. Va.) is also sponsoring the proposal.

Rep. Price's legislation also directs the Secretary of the Treasury to invest railroad retirement account funds in the highest interest bearing issues in order to maximize investment returns and strengthen the actuarial soundness of the accounts.

Sue to Halt Use Of Levee Land As Dumping Area

An injunction proceeding to halt use of a tract of land owned in Centerville township in St. Clair county by the East Side Levee and Sanitary district for refuse dumping was filed Tuesday in circuit court at Belleville by Illinois Atty. Gen. William J. Scott.

The suit, filed at the request of the Illinois Department of Public Health, charges that the refuse disposal site fails to meet minimum sanitation and operational standards set forth in the Illinois Refuse Disposal Act.

The levee district, however, reported several weeks ago that the tract of land involved has not been used by the district as a landfill and that dumping in the area is done by persons who ignore barricades, posted signs and other efforts to keep them out of the area. The levee district, as a result, announced plans in its regular Feb. 4 meeting to fence the area, providing access to the tract.

Says Violations Continue
The suit filed by Scott states the levee district has failed to halt operations at the dump since 1966 and continues at this time to violate the state public health standards relating to waste disposal.

Dr. Franklin Yoder, state public health director, said the district has been ordered repeatedly to prevent the dumping of food wastes and other household and industrial refuse, but dumping has continued "in wilful violation of the law."

The complaint asks the circuit court to issue a temporary injunction to halt use of the land as a refuse disposal site. A permanent injunction is sought following trial.

Glue Squirted in Locks
A white type of glue was squirted into lock cylinders of doors to shops and offices in the arcade of the Bellemeade Village shopping center, it was reported at 10:10 a.m. Tuesday.

Council to Review Zoning Denial by Plan Commission

Granite City council members voted Monday night to review action taken last week by the City Plan Commission on denying a commercial designation for a tract at 2133 Johnson road now zoned residential and voted to override a denial of a special use permit for a home beauty shop at 2933 Dale avenue.

A spokesman for the petitioners for the Johnson road tract, John Krokovich, said the commercial zoning is sought for development of the site as a medical center in the hope of attracting more doctors to the community. The petitioners are Richard and Celia Davis.

The council referred the matter to the aldermen of the Sixth and Seventh Wards for recommendation.

The council voted 11-2 to override the Plan Commission's denial of a special use permit requested by George Taylor for operation of a beauty shop in his home at 2933 Dale avenue. The shop has been in operation there for about eight years.

Alderman Dallas questioned how the shop could operate for so many years without a permit, and was told by the inspection department that it is not responsible for inspections.

Teachers Named IEA Convention Delegates

Three Granite City teachers have been designated delegates from the Marquette Division to the annual meeting of the Illinois Education Association, which starts Feb. 26 at the Sherman House in Chicago. Local representatives are Richard Marxus, 3804 Johnson road, Fred Stille, 2573 North street, and James W. Harmon, 2967 Washington avenue.

Mrs. Helen Bain, president of the National Education Association and an inner-city classroom teacher from Nashville, Tenn., will appear at the opening banquet, Feb. 26, and also attend several convention meetings, officials announced this week.

The 850 delegates are expected to seek solutions to varied problems. The association is recommending the adoption of an operating cost formula to guarantee a $800 per pupil level of support from state and local funds, currently at $520 per pupil.

The controversial aid for non-public schools issue; state legislation to regulate negotiations between hundreds of school boards and local education associations in Illinois; and time to be allotted during the school day for teachers to plan and prepare work to increase effectiveness of instruction, also will be discussed.

3 GC Aldermen Oppose High-Rise Unit for Elderly

Objections to plans for a high-rise apartment building for the elderly were voiced by three Granite City aldermen during Monday night's council session.

The council members said they believed the elderly would prefer an extension to the present Anchorage Homes or a similar development in the downtown area rather than a high-rise apartment building.

Alderman Whitmer pointed out he would like for the Granite City Housing Authority board to talk to elderly people about their desires. "The people in Anchorage like the privacy and their flowers and lawns. They have their own little castles."

Nonn said he did not favor a high-rise building, "which could cause problems here such as in St. Louis." He added that suitable areas could be found in the downtown area for construction of units similar to those in Anchorage. From a high-rise, all they'd be able to see is the smoke," Nonn added.

The council meeting adjourned without any action on the matter as Morleien remarked he found people in Anchorage to be completely happy and that he would be happy to live there upon his retirement.

Strawberry Production Increase Possible

Strawberry production can be expanded in Madison and surrounding counties, reports Chris Doll, University of Illinois, Area Extension Adviser. The large metropolitan area along the Mississippi River Valley provides a ready market for this delectable fruit, he added.

Fruits can be sold on the wholesale fruit market, to supermarkets and fruit stands or at the farm. On-the-farm sales can be made of the picked fruit, or pick-your-own systems can be developed.

Strawberries grown with good cultural care should produce 50-100 quarts per 100 foot of row, or 500-1,000 quarts per acre says Doll. It is estimated that it costs 750 dollars an acre to establish and care for the planting until the first fruit is harvested. Second year costs are estimated at one-third this amount.

Strawberry plants require a fertile, well drained soil and plenty of water. Water for irrigation should be available for any commercial planting. An irrigation system provides crop insurance in periods of moisture stress and can be used for frost protection in spring.

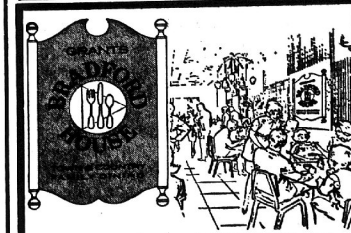

Doll says that weed control is less of a problem since the advent of Segone and Dacchal pesticides. These materials can be applied to weed-free plantings and will control weed growth for a month or more.

The University of Illinois Extension Circular 819, "Strawberry Growing in Illinois" is available at the County Extension Service Offices and discusses the culture and care of this crop.

GC Township Bills Ok'd; Total $7232

In a brief town board meeting Monday night, Granite City council members approved township disbursements totaling $7232 and authorized a call for bids for a bond for City Treasurer E. R. "Pat" Rich in his capacity at township tax collector.

Of the total disbursements, $4200 was expended from the town fund and $3033 for relief purposes.

Benefits for Miners With 'Black Lungs'

Miners disabled by black lung disease (coal worker's pneumoconiosis), or their widows, may be entitled to cash benefits under the new Federal Coal Mine Health and Safety Act, that Congress enacted into law last session, Rep. Melvin Price, (D) 24th Illinois District, reported this week.

A disabled coal miner or widow will get $106 a month. The maximum benefit, payable when there are three dependents, is $272 a month. The benefits payable under the new law will be reduced if certain other kinds of benefits are being paid—workmen's compensation, State disability benefits, and unemployment insurance—or if the miner is working and earning more than $106 a year.

Congressman Price, a sponsor of the Act, pointed out that an individual thinks he may be eligible for these benefits he should file a claim as soon as possible. Compensation, however, is payable beginning with the time a claim is filed if eligibility is established. Any delay in filing could cause him to lose benefits. The law does not permit back payments earlier than the date he files.

Price explained that the claim of a miner (or widow) must be in writing and signed; the miner or the widow can file by mail or by going to the nearest social security office. The name of the miner and his social security number (if available) should be given, and the name and address of the applicant should be given. The law does not require that he is asking for the benefits provided under the new Coal Mine Health and Safety Act. The social security office will assist him in completing his application and will get in touch with him later to secure any additional information which will be needed as soon as necessary regulations have been developed.

Nameki Band Featured GCHS Band to Perform With Electronic Sound

A new sound will be added this evening to the Granite City high school band when it performs for the first time in "electronic" music, which augments the talents of the youthful musicians with a pre-recorded tape.

The special number, entitled "Stargazing," will be presented in the third of a series of winter-spring band concerts, to be offered at 8 p.m. today in the auditorium of Granite City high school. Admission is by season ticket, or single performance tickets, available at the door.

Guest artists will be Nameki Division Band students, who are scheduled to play the opening numbers of tonight's concert under the direction of Miss Carol James.

GCHS Band Director Louis Meek said the electronic composition written by Donald Erb, consists of three parts—1. The Stars Come Out, 2. Comets, Meteors and Shooting Stars; and 3. The Surface of the Sun.

The composer has won numerous awards and his music has been performed by many nationally famous orchestras, including the Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit and Dallas Symphonies, the high school band director said.

The Nameki Elementary Band Division, consisting of music students from Frohardt, Maryville, Mitchell, Nameki, Niedringhaus and Parkview schools, will play four numbers.

"Mighty Fortress is Our God," by Johann Sebastian Bach, arranged by Walter Finlayson; 2. Early French Dances—"Pavane and Galliard," by Claude Gervaise, arranged by Ron Foukner, and "Little League March," by John Kinyon.

In addition to the "Stargazing," electronic presentation, the senior high musicians will perform:

"Purple Pageant," a march by K. L. King; the Overture to "Rienzi," by Richard Wagner; Choral and Alleluia by Howard Hanson; "Symphony No. 5—Finale," by Dimitri Shostakovich; "Curtain at Eight," by Harold L. Walters; "Nobles of the Mystic Shrine," by John Philip Sousa; and "I'll See You Again," by Noel Coward.

Joseph Owens, assistant conductor, will direct a portion of this evening's senior high band program.

Nameki band personnel performing in the concert, include: Flute—Gregg Schubert, first chair; and Crystal Andrews, Alison Bell, Jackie Billelo, Kim Brecker, Susan Dahmus, Laura Dyer, Linda Dyer, Joanne Edwards, Sherree Forsgoun, Lucy Holt, Leslie Large, Becky McComis, Patty Melzer, Kay Peters, Karen Stawwar, Cathy Venne and Teri Voss.

IRS Gives Tips to Taxpayers Seeking Aid

Persons needing help with their income tax returns are being advised by the Internal Revenue Service to select only qualified and reputable advisers.

"A taxpayer can have someone else prepare a return, but it is the taxpayer, who is responsible for the accuracy of the data entered and for the full payment of any additional tax, penalties and interest charged," IRS District Director Jay G. Philpott said today in Springfield.

"While most tax practitioners are competent and honest," Philpott said, "Never sign a blank return and do not sign a tax return prepared in pencil. It can be changed later."

He said other potential danger signals are "to avoid the advisor who guarantees refunds, awards a percentage of the refund or supposedly knows all the angles."

"Be on your guard if it is suggested that your refund check be mailed to the advisor."

Philpott said a professional advisor should sign the tax return he prepares on the line provided and the taxpayer should record his name and address for future reference.

Scouter Dixon Attends Seminar on Explorers

Phillip L. Dixon of the Cahokia Mound Council Boy Scouts of America professional staff is one of a group of executives in the nation selected to attend a special seminar on the "Administration of Exploring" in Montgomery, Ala., this week.

The seminar, sponsored by the Exploring Division of the National Council BSA, is designed to give the executives a better knowledge of the new contemporary Exploring program.

"Until recently, Exploring was considered a high adventure type program for young men interested in the outdoors," according to John Cluerhout, national director of Exploring, "but our new program is designed to meet the contemporary needs of young people helping them find their present and future roles as individuals and in society."

Dixon, who has the responsibility locally to administer the Exploring program, was one of 230 executives in the country selected to attend the seminar being held at the Air University facility near Montgomery.

Upon his return to Granite City, he will be responsible for advising a volunteer committee of community leaders that will work with business and professional groups, associations, and other sponsoring organizations to make contemporary Exploring available to the young adults of the area served by the Cahokia Mound Council.

New Holiday Law Causes Stir, But a Year Early

The first holiday in 1970—Lincoln's birthday—observed only by a shutdown of schools, city and county offices last Thursday, resulted in some confusion among industrial traffic managers, personnel directors and others responsible for production and working schedules, who were under the impression that five national holidays, including Lincoln's birthday, were to be observed this year on Monday instead of on the regularly scheduled dates.

Inquiries revealed the misunderstanding resulted from several news articles out of Springfield that mistakenly reported that Illinois legislation resetting the holiday dates was to become effective in 1970. This is not the case, according to State Sen. Merrill Otwell (R-Edwardsville) who pointed out that five separate Senate bills affecting the holiday dates specify the legislation is to conform with similar federal laws and the effective date is Jan. 1, 1971.

Holidays affected by the bills and signed into law early last fall by Gov. Ogilvie are Washington's birthday (Feb. 22), Lincoln's birthday (Feb. 12), Memorial Day (May 30), Columbus day (Oct. 12) and Veterans Day (Nov. 11).

New Monday Holidays
The new Monday holidays created by the state law effective next year are:

Washington's birthday—third Monday in February.
Lincoln's birthday—second Monday in February.

Memorial Day—Last Monday in May.
Columbus Day—Second Monday in October.

Veterans Day—Fourth Monday in October.

Congress passed the Monday holiday law last June prior to action by the Illinois legislature, but did not include Lincoln's birthday. It did include Labor Day which Illinois already celebrates on the first Monday in September and which therefore was not included in the state law.

Fourth of July—a major holiday—is not affected by either the federal or state laws.

While the actual date of a holiday observance might appear to be of minor concern, some industrial officials point out that a legal determination of Monday for some holidays could mean the difference in whether or not a plant works or is shut down for a day because of contract requirements for holiday pay.

Could Cause Problems

One area plant representative pointed out, for example, that if a holiday fell on a Saturday as its regular date, but was to be observed the following Monday, it is high conceivable the management might close the plant down on Monday. This would result from the fact that workers who normally are off on Saturday, but worked on Monday which was designated by law as a holiday, would work under holiday extra time pay rates instead of receiving just a day's pay for a regular weekday holiday.

Another plant representative said that any number of complications over holiday pay, extra pay rates and time off could develop between union leaders and management as a result of the Monday holiday schedules.

For that reason some plant officials began asking questions last week when Lincoln's birthday was observed on its usual date instead of the second Monday. The problem was resolved by determination of the effective date of the new legislation.

Man Released to Army As Fort Ord Deserter

Marvin L. Barks, 20, who said he lived in St. Louis, was turned over to Army officials by Venice police Monday afternoon as a deserter from his Army post at Fort Ord, Calif., according to Venice Police Chief John Essington.

Venice officials said they also learned Barks was wanted in several communities on charges of renting cars with credit cards issued to persons other than Barks, Essington said.

Barks was arrested by Venice police about 3:10 a.m. last Friday after he ran the McKinley bridge toll booth three times without paying the bridge fare. Police said Barks, driving east, ran the toll booth without paying, repeated the performance a few minutes later on his way back to St. Louis, and a short time later passed the toll booth again without paying on his way back to Venice. Officers picked him up at Broadway and McKinley street.

Essington said Barks was driving a car bearing California license plates, but was unable to explain where he got the car. Barks was carrying a number of credit cards made out to persons other than himself and had two driver's licenses, police said. Essington said subsequent investigation revealed Barks had rented cars in several other communities, and apparently abandoned them.

Deduction of Taxes Explained by IRS

Most major state and local taxes can be deducted on federal income tax returns if you itemize your deductions, but some of the miscellaneous taxes cannot be, Jay G. Philpott, district director of Internal Revenue for central and southern Illinois, said today.

The deductible taxes are real estate and personal property taxes, state and local income taxes, state and local gasoline taxes, and general sales taxes. Taxes that are not deductible include liquor and cigarette taxes, most auto license fees, water service charges, hunting and fishing licenses and dog licenses. Federal taxes are not deductible on individual income tax returns.

Rear of Auto Struck

An auto driven by Domenick Richichi, Caseyville, was struck by a car driven by Phyllis M. Unlage, 1220 Alton avenue, Madison, who skidded Monday at 17th street and Delmar avenue. The Unlage woman was charged with following too closely.

Auto Mirrors Stolen

Douglas Horn, 2 Nightingale avenue, reported Monday that two yellow side view mirrors were stolen from his 1970 auto while it was parked Saturday night at 21st street and Washington avenue.

University Center at SIU To be Largest Building

Electricians have started installing enough conduit to carry 70 miles of electrical wiring in one building project at the Southern Illinois University-Carbondale.

It's the $8.5 million job that will expand and complete SIU's nine-year-old University Center, a building that is a meeting, conference, and social hub not only for SIU students but for residents of the entire area. The project is being financed by revenue bonds paid off from Center income.

Expected to be wrapped up early in 1971, the finished product will represent 350,000 square feet of space, by far the largest building at SIU.

The job will add a 94,000 square foot wing to the south of the present building and will finish out the upper three floors of the existing structure. Except for a ballroom-lounge-office section on one of them, the top three floors have been bare concrete and temporary partitions since the first stage was opened in 1961.

The project even extends into previously-finished ground floor portions, where a one-time game room and vending machine section has been boarded off while workmen re-do it as a new bookstore. The old one, cramped and inadequate, will be turned into billiards room.

Offices of student government and activities have been packed off to a barracks nearby as their former suite and two decks above it are being cut through for a bank of high speed escalators.

Another escalator will run from the ground floor to the upper floor of the addition, and still another will carry Center visitors from a new street-level entrance at the east side of the addition.

Features of the new wing will be a 24-hour self-service postal station; a 225-foot underground lounge with food service from 18 vending machines; a 450-seat dining area and a related cafeteria service unit to take care of it along with the existing Roman Room cafeteria.

Lounges, Ballroom

Two huge lounges, a 300-seat auditorium and a ballroom will make up the new wing's top floor.

Meeting-dining rooms; a table-service dining room; new quarters for the Center's administrative offices, student government and activities; study lounges; music and library rooms; meeting areas; and a third-floor "creative activities areas" are all scheduled for the upper "shell" floors of the present building.

Before the job is over, contractors will have put in three and one-half acres of acoustical tile, an acre of vinyl wall covering, and nearly a mile and a half of metal ductwork for heating and air-conditioning. They will lay 425,000 bricks, 45,000 concrete blocks, and 43,000 pieces of glazed tile. Added to the building's dense utilities network will be another 6000 feet of inside sewer pipe and 17,600 feet of pipe and fittings for chilled and hot water.

Also—63 more soap dispensers, 1100 more feet of handrails, 54 more clocks, 21 more exhaust fans, and an additional 213 fire alarms.

Two GC Students Named To Millikin Dean's List

Two Granite City students are among 524 at Millikin University, Decatur, to be named to the dean's list for their academic accomplishments during the first semester.

They are James Hentzel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Hentzel, 326 Fehling road, a junior majoring in marketing, and Miss Phyllis Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wallace, 3144 Myrtle avenue, a sophomore who plans to teach.

ISU Enrollment Hits 11.7% Record Increase

Final enrollment for the second semester at Illinois State University shows an 11.7% increase over a year ago to a record 14,230. The Office of Admissions and Records reported this week.

The total is a gain of 1495 over the 12,735 enrolled for the spring semester in 1968-69, with 1190 representing new students, according to Admissions and Records Dean Wilbur Venable.

While the figure is 457 below the fall enrollment of 14,687, Dean Venable explained that a decline between terms is VALUABLE MANUSCRIPT describing the Upper Louisiana Territory in 1803, presented to SIU-SW by Count A. du Pre de Saint-Maur (center) of Pau, France, for use in a new Center for Study of Mississippi Valley Culture. Looking at the document with the count are John Abbott (left), director of SIU-SW's Lovejoy Library, and John F. McDermott, humanities research professor and a long-time friend of the count's.

Country, Western Music Interpreted at Program

By TERRY SEDLACK

On Sunday, radio station WIL sponsored a Country Western show it appropriately called "Shower of Stars." The main headlines were Wayne Jennings, Jack Green, Jeanie Seely, Dave Dudley, Sheb Wooley and Fred Weller.

The importance of this show lies not so much in this grouping of talent as it is in its representation. Country Western music has been disregarded for many years as "hillbilly" and not regarded as a serious form of contemporary music.

Its popularity has been strictly regional, and even though support has been comparatively meager. During the last few years it has made tremendous strides ahead.

There is no way now of correctly classifying country music apart from rock and classical ballads. The line is so thin, if it exists at all, that it would be impossible to define it.

Although this sounds unimportant now, in later years this transition will prove to be of paramount importance when it comes to shaping the musical contributions our generation will submit.

Contemporary musical geniuses such as Dylan, Joe South, Cohen, Bacharach and David and many others have leaned heavily on Country Western sounds for some of their most outstanding material.

The Beatles have recorded Country and Western compositions from the very beginning. Many rock groups have made no distinctions between the two forms of music for years.

Fred Weller, a special guest in "Shower of Stars," is a prime example. He not only is an exceptional guitarist, but he has separated himself from the group as a successful country entertainer.

Although these are two separate activities for Fred, he himself admitted, "it would be impossible for me to keep both types of performances separate and individual. They are both me, and I am only one person. Country music, as we knew it 10 years ago, is for all practical purposes, dead."

"It is replaced by a new, better medium. There's no name for it, it is too massive to categorize. The only way I could describe it is powerful."

Travel-Study Program In Mexico Set by SIU

A travel-study program in Mexico, sponsored by Southern Illinois University's Latin America Institute, is available to college students and adults who are interested in Latin America culture and literature.

The program lasts six weeks, June 29-August 2. Most of the time will be spent at the University of Veracruz at Xalapa, 199 miles southeast of Mexico City.

After an orientation week on SIU's Carbondale campus, participants will travel to Mexico and spend a few days in Mexico City, in Xalapa they will be housed in individual Spanish-speaking homes. Courses offered at the University of Veracruz include introduction to Mexican culture, elementary and intermediate Spanish, Latin American literature, Mexican history, and anthropology.

The program includes weekend excursions to points of interest. Cost for each participant is about $700. Additional information can be obtained at the Latin America Institute, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, 62901.

SIU-SW Sets Up Center to Study Area's Culture

Establishment of a Center for Study of Mississippi Valley Culture at the Southern Illinois University - Southwestern campus was announced this week by Chancellor John S. Rendeman.

"This center will be a significant step in the development of specialized capabilities which characterize a mature university. No university can provide all the materials for research which faculty and graduate students may require. It must choose those areas in which it can be outstanding and then pursue those goals," Chancellor Rendeman said.

The center will be housed in Lovejoy Library, which has been acquiring significant collections of materials on the Mississippi Valley for several years. The Cabot-Carlan Collection, the Slav-American Collection and the Music of the American People Collection are already considered of national importance.

A previously unpublished, translated French manuscript describing the Upper Louisiana Territory in 1803 was presented to the library last week by a French count, A. du Pre de Saint-Maur of Pau, France.

The 200-page account of the Mississippi Valley from New Madrid, Mo., to the mouth of the Illinois River has been in the count's family for 167 years.

The manuscript will be translated by Prof. John F. McDermott, research professor of humanities at SIU-SW. John Abbott, director of Lovejoy Library, said the new center will "bring to focus continuing efforts to build a major research collection regarding this region. It will permit the University to expand its ties with the immediate community, with libraries, institutions and individuals, wherever they may be, which have materials dealing with the culture of the Mississippi Valley."

State 4-H Week to be Observed June 16-19

The State 4-H Week will be observed June 16-19 at the University of Illinois. It was announced at the monthly meeting of the Madison county 4-H Federation.

Mrs. Mary Knecht explained that some of the projects to be offered members for the first time this year are "do your own thing," "reading project," "money managing" and "aviation."

Richard Tomkinson discussed the IFYE program and Teen caravan. He also explained the state exchange, a new program which will involve 4-H members exchanging homes with members from other states for several weeks this summer. He then led a recreation clinic. The theme of the meeting was "A Birthday Party." Games were played and refreshments consisting of individual birthday cakes were served by the Easterburg agricultural 4-H club.

Summer Jobs for College Students

Summer jobs are available to college students in 48 different fields, according to D. L. Clarke, work counselor at the student work and financial assistance office of the Carbondale campus of Southern Illinois University.

The jobs range from factory and resort work to research and technology jobs. The qualifications range from non-skilled to graduate level education.

Summer jobs are located all over the United States, Clarke said. There is a heavy concentration of jobs in the northern cities. Camp and resort jobs are located in Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin, New England, and the West and Southwest. There also is a limited listing of overseas jobs in specialized areas.

Students can earn a substantial part of their college education costs by summer work, Clarke said. Camp jobs pay from $200 to $1000 per summer plus room and board. Factory work on the average is $2.76 an hour in the Chicago area.

Employment prospects in the Chicago area are good, Clarke said. He has received many requests for factory, clerical and hospital workers.

There also is a good demand for agricultural workers, Del Monte, for instance, has requested some 500 employees to work on their farms this summer.

In order to obtain a summer job, a student should set up an appointment with one of the job counselors in Washington Square. To do an effective job, Clarke said, a counselor needs about thirty minutes with each student.

A student can obtain addresses to write to potential employers from listings in one catalogue in the summer job program office. Some time in May the student work and financial assistance office will send out a questionnaire to the students who availed themselves of this service to find out if they had been successful in obtaining summer employment.

Summer Institute Set For Science Teachers

The National Science Foundation has granted Southern Illinois University-Carbondale $3,650 to conduct a 1970 Summer Institute in Earth Science for high school science teachers. A similar NSF-supported earth science institute was conducted at SIU in 1968.

The eight-weeks institute will run from June 22 to Aug. 14 and will be carried on at Colorado College in Steamboat Springs, Colo. David L. Jones, SIU associate professor of geography who is the institute director, says enrollment will be limited to 36 teachers who have at least nine semester hours (or its equivalent) of college training in earth science areas and who now are teaching earth science or general science courses.

Although numerous applications for enrollment have been received, Jones says, preference will be given to Illinois residents, especially those from Southern Illinois. School teachers interested in applying should contact Jones at the SIU geography department in Carbondale immediately because Feb. 21 will be the deadline for receiving completed applications, he says.

Council Oks Annexation Of Tract for 2 Schools

Granite City council members voted approval Monday night for annexation of a 65-acre tract at Nameoki and Maryville roads where the Granite City school district plans to erect a new elementary school and a new junior high school. The tract is adjacent to Bowland.

The two-school site is located in Chouteau township, and the connection with Granite City is planned along Nameoki road, which also runs through Nameoki township.

Approval of the annexation was unanimous by the council. Absent were Aldermen Boyd, Jarrett and Dawes.

In other Ordinance committee action, the council voted down the proposed establishment of a council judicial committee, recommended by Assistant City Atty. Harry Hartman to work with the city's legal staff on lawsuits involving the city.

Council members indicated, "There are enough committees now," and it was decided to follow the current procedure of the attorneys meeting with the entire council to discuss lawsuits.

Dispute over Authority

In the proposed ordinance it was noted the council was to name the three-member committee and the chairman. "It's illegal for the council to name the chairman," Moeles pointed out. Mayor Partney added that he would veto the ordinance as it was submitted. Before the vote was taken, the council changed the wording to allow the mayor to name the chairman. The measure lost on suspension of rules 8-10-5 and was not placed on first reading.

Referred to the Police committee was a request from the police department to seek bids for a new motorcycle, and referred to the Finance committee was a bill for $75 submitted by Leo Konzen, local lawyer, who represented the board of Fire and Police Commissioners in the 15 hearing sessions involving Police Commissioner Louis Mank, Konzen and Maryville roads where the Granite City school district plans to erect a new elementary school and a new junior high school. The tract is adjacent to Bowland.

Referred to City Atty. Scroggins was a claim against the city for damage to an auto that struck a section of sewer tile in the street on Fehling road on Jan. 26. The claim was filed by Robert Allen, 4003 Maryland Manor. It had been referred to the contractor, A. H. Seebold Co., who returned it to the council saying his sewer repair crew had moved out of the area on Jan. 19.

On recommendation by Scroggins, the council voted to pay $38 to Loren Gentry, 2254 Washington avenue, for doctor and hospital bills resulting from a fall on the afternoon of May 13 on loose gravel at Niedringhaus and Madison avenues.

Word of Caution

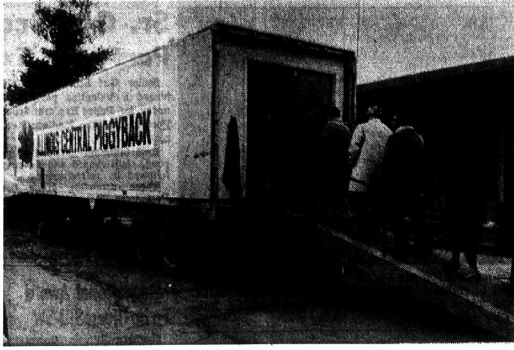

Nonn cautioned that the amount "may seem petty now, but over a year's time these small claims reach a high total and payments encourage more claims against the city."

Also referred to the Finance committee was a request from Arthur Griffin, business manager for Laborer Local 397, to open its agreement with the city, along with a request from the Firemen's Pension Board for $85,000 to be included in the new budget for pensions — the same amount as this year.

Permission was given the Jaycees to place 12 banners across streets from July 13-19 to advertise a World Championship Rodeo at the Tri-City Speedway.

A three week vacation was authorized for Mrs. Virginia McEster in the clerk's office, who has completed five years' employment.

Dept. of Army Honors Two Local Employees

Ceremonies at the U.S. Army Mobility Equipment Command headquarters, 4300 Goodfellow Blvd., St. Louis, recently marked the presentation of awards to two Granite City residents who were honored by the Department of the Army.

In recognition of outstanding performance of her duties in the special items management office, Mrs. Helen A. Todoroff, 3120 Colgate place, was awarded a certificate of commendation and quality step increase in annual salary. The award was presented by Allen T. Cook, office chief.

Receiving the same award for outstanding performance of duties in the office of the comptroller and director of programs was Arthur W. Meier, 1612 Clark avenue. The local resident, who is employed as an accountant in that section, received the certificate from Col. John F. Hagan, office chief.

Inquiries are Varied to Confidential Phone Plan

A worried mother who suspected her son—a Vietnam returnee—still smoked pot, a habit he picked up overseas; and a young man, soon to be married, now afraid his earlier experimentation with LSD would affect any children born to him and his future wife, were among the calls for assistance made recently to 876-2383.

In both instances related above, those calling the confidential telephone service received accurate information, with identity of the callers protected by the program sponsors.

Only a general description of the type calls being made to the special telephone number was furnished the Press-Record.

Help for narcotic users and information about drug abuse is available on a "strictly confidential" basis by calling 876-2383 and asking for Mrs. Douglas.

A troubled teenager or adult may talk with a former drug addict without giving their name; a disturbed parent may learn the common symptoms of drug addiction and get useful advice; and followup investigations can be arranged into information about narcotics abuse.

Counseling can be provided for those who wish it, complaints may be registered, rumors stopped and inquiries about illicit drug activities answered.

Since the service was initiated on Jan. 12, contacts made through the program have been varied. The "confidential service" is open to all Quad-City residents.

The cookies are tasty alone, the River Bluff Girl Scout Council has issued several recipe suggestions for using the cookies.

A general recipe is to take the sugared shortbread, chocolate and vanilla sandwich cookies, crushed and mixed with shortening to make a whole-some pastry for pies such as custard, lemon, butterscotch, and chocolate cream.

These cookies also may be used to line a mold to be filled with favorite gelatin desserts and are even tastier if topped with marshmallow, a dot of butter and browned quickly under a broiler.

Early Tax Filing Brings Early Refund

"If you are expecting a refund on your Federal income tax return now is the time to file," was the advice Jay G. Philpott, district director of Internal Revenue for central and southern Illinois, offered Springfield District taxpayers today.

"If your return is received in our Service Center in Kansas City, Mo., by Feb. 20, you can expect to receive your refund some time between March 21 and March 30," Philpott added. "If you wait until later on in the filing period to file your return, it will take as long as eight to ten weeks to process your refund," he said.

Taxpayers will need to prepare their federal tax return before their state income tax return since the adjusted gross income figure shown on line 15c of the federal form 1040 is the figure they must begin with on the state income tax form.

Tenth grade Granite City high school students may register to take the three-hour National Educational Development Tests (NEDT) on Tuesday, March 3, according to L. C. McCauley, principal.

"We will use the test to help students, parents, and teachers identify individual strengths and weaknesses in each student's educational development and in making a realistic appraisal of his educational and vocational goals."

Published by Science Research Associates, Inc., the NEDT battery was constructed under the direction of SRA's 26.

City Asks C. of E. To Repair Rodger Ave. Sewer Break

Confirmation was given Granite City council members Monday night that a supplemental application has been made by the city to the federal government for the Corps of Engineers to repair the latest sewer break at the rear of 24 Oaklawn terrace and along Rodger avenue.

Kenneth Kleberger, city engineer, said the Rodger avenue break has been under suspect since early last July but test holes failed to locate any break in the 15-inch sewer line.

The line is along the west bank of the Nankooki area drainage ditch and the ground has settled near a point where a twin 60-inch storm drain enters the ditch north of Jill avenue.

Further surveys by the city engineer showed the 15-inch line has dropped as much as four inches in some locations, and householders along Rodger avenue are experiencing difficulty with drainage through their laterals, the engineer said.

"The questionable section of main sewer line extends from the first manhole north of Johnson road, south under the ditch 150 feet south of Johnson road and down the west ditch bank to the manhole located in Jill avenue, a distance of about 2400 feet. The depth of the pipe is 12 to 15 feet," the engineer reported.

"This particular line is also part of the trunk line which serves the Cloverview area and if blocked off, which appears to be inevitable, could control the sewage collection of the entire northeast section of the city," the engineer added.

In a separate letter, the engineer questioned the repair project to be undertaken by the Corps of Engineers along the Lynch avenue lines in Cloverview subdivision.

The engineer favors replacement of the entire lines, while the Corps of Engineers said it could not, under Office of Emergency Preparedness regulations, install any facility in a "better than original condition."

Kleberger stated that the most feasible way to repair the city's collapsing lines is a complete repair between manholes rather than piecemeal patching of the six breaks reported in the Cloverview area.

"Our position is a more permanent installation would be achieved through the wholesale replacement of this particular system. I question as to what position the city will be in if these breaks recur," the engineer said. He asked that the mayor or some other authority resubmit requests for replacement rather than repairs.

No action was taken by the council.

Social Security Tax Credit may be Claimed

A credit for excess social security taxes against 1969 federal income tax may be taken if a taxpayer held more than one job last year and if wages subject to social security taxes totaled more than $7000, the Internal Revenue Service pointed out today.

This credit may be claimed on line 30 of form 1040, according to Jay G. Philpott, district director. "W-2 statements showing the amount withheld for social security must be attached to the return."

Taxpayers who worked for only one employer during 1969 and had more than $374.40 of social security withheld may not claim the excess as a credit against income tax. The employer should adjust the over-collection with the employee.

2 Polling Places In Venice School Election April 11

Residents of the Venice school district voted in the annual school election Saturday, April 11, will cast ballots at two polling places—the Venice high school gymnasium on Broadway or the Harrison Teen Center, 240 Roosevelt drive, Eagle Park.

At their regular meeting Monday evening, Venice school board members unanimously approved establishing a second polling place in the Eagle Park area for this year's election, in which two positions on the board will be filled.

Candidates may file petitions starting Wednesday, Feb. 25, at the office of Supl. of Schools John O. Pier. Filing will continue through Friday, March 20, with March 24 designated as the last date for withdrawal of candidates' names.

Venice board members whose terms expire in April are Fred Durrer Jr., 601 Jefferson avenue, Venice, and Richard H. Bailey, 233 Hill street, Eagle Park. Both incumbents are expected to seek re-election. Bailey won a two-year term in 1968 to complete the unexpired term of the late John E. Ginterman. He had been appointed to the board for a two-month interim period prior to the April 1968 election. Residents of the unincorporated Eagle Park community have sought a polling place in their area on several occasions in recent years. The practice was discontinued in the early 1960s when election costs increased and the number of persons voting decreased, school officials said at the time.

Both polling places will be open from noon to 7 p.m. Voters residing within the Venice city limits will cast ballots at the high school, with those living outside the corporate limits voting at the Harrison center.

Method to Enhance Flow Of Blood being Tried

The same principle that propels a rocket into space may be used to help ailing hearts recover, according to a team of researchers from Rotterdam, The Netherlands. Applied to experimental animals, it has had encouraging results, the Illinois Heart Association has been advised.

The principle is this: for every action there is an equal and opposite reaction. Put another way, the flaming fuel jetting out of the Saturn rocket (pushing in one direction) causes the Apollo capsule to move in the other, or rise toward the moon.

In a report at the Scientific Sessions of the American Heart Association, the group from the Medical Faculty of Rotterdam related this principle to human function. When the heart contracts and empties, it ejects blood into the aorta, the main artery, in a direction toward the head. This movement produces a slight recoil of the entire body in the opposite direction.

The researchers then reasoned a push to the body in a direction toward the feet at the instant that the heart ejects blood into the aorta, they might be able to enhance blood flow. In this case, accelerating the body toward the feet (action) would cause an extra gush of blood from the heart (reaction).

In effect, then, extra blood pumping action would be achieved without asking the heart to perform the extra labor. An ailing heart—in a patient in heart failure, for example, or one recovering from a heart attack—would then be better able to heal—with the assurance that the body is still getting an adequate circulation.

The Rotterdam group—Drs. A. C. Amtzenius, J. Koops and P. G. Hugenholz—tested this idea, dubbed BASH, in anesthetized piglets. BASH is shorthand for Body Acceleration given Synchronously with the Heartbeat. The animals were placed on a table made to "rock" in proper step with the heart beat. The push was applied to the table. The technique was found to restore normal blood pressure and cardiac output (amount of blood ejected per minute) in animals with experimentally-induced shock and heart failure. These improvements continued for periods of up to several hours after BASH had been stopped, the group reported.

The researchers also applied BASH to a group of animals with experimental heart attacks. These showed a much higher rate of survival in the first few hours after the coronary (the most dangerous period in man) than did a group of unabsorbed animals.

Concluded the investigators: "It appears to be an effective cardiac assist device without need for surgical procedures."

January Ice Jams Cuts Canal Freight Traffic

Ice jams in the Mississippi river during sub-zero temperatures of January sent the volume of commercial freight locked through the Chain of Rocks canal skidding to a total of only 1,860,088 tons during the month, according to a report by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers which handles the canal locks and operations.

Freight shipments for January were nearly 2 million tons less than those moving through the canal during December, and down 313,640 tons below the January 1969 shipments of 2,173,728 tons, the report showed. December freight movements through the Chain of Rocks locks total 3,859,291 tons.

A total of 2744 vessels, including 586 towboats and 2138 barges, were locked through the canal last month, compared to 5412 vessels, including 910 towboats and 4426 barges, which used the canal in December. In January a year ago, 3001 vessels, including 615 towboats and 2378 barges, were locked through the canal.

Decline Is Seasonal A seasonal drop in freight shipments through the Chain of Rocks locks and canal is customary in January, but last month's decline was far below the usual drop for that time of the year, according to statistics on freight shipments.

Shipments during January included: Petroleum products, 398,600 tons up river and 94,800 tons down river; grain, 10,150 tons up and 665,650 down; coal, 187,350 up and none down; cement, sand and gravel, 4800 and 7980; sulphur, 9000 and none; miscellaneous commodities, 132,750 and 21,450; iron and steel products, 42,450 and 84,885; and chemicals, 173,450 up and 28,800 down, totals of 558,550 tons up river and 901,540 tons down river.

In addition to the 586 towboats and 2138 barges locked through the canal in January, four government towboats and nine barges, as well as seven government patrol boats also passed through the canal. A total of 545 lockages was made, compared to 585 in January 1969.

Lottery Winners Must Declare Values of Items

Taxpayers who are lucky winners in lotteries, sweepstakes, raffles or give-away shows should report the fair market value of the prize on federal income tax returns, Jay G. Philpott, district director of Internal Revenue for central and southern Illinois, said today.

If the prize is an item of merchandise, its fair market value should be reported. Generally, the fair market value is what the item would cost if the taxpayer were to purchase it at a retail store.

Salesmen who win prizes or receive awards in company sales or promotion contests also are subject to tax on the value of the prize. Such gifts would include vacation trips to resort areas, shares of stock or merchandise. Awards received by employees for contributions to company suggestion plans are also taxable and should be reported as income on returns.

One type of prize is not subject to tax, Philpott said. These are prizes received in recognition of past achievements in religious, charitable, scientific, educational, artistic, literary or civic fields, without action on the recipient's part and is not expected to render any further services.

For more detailed information, order or information 525, "Taxable Income and Non-taxable Income," from Forms Distribution, P.O. Box 1468, Springfield, Ill. 62705.

West Pontoon Rd. Improvement Tie-In

State Wants Agreement with City on Rte. 203 Improvement Project

An agreement between the city and state highway department to widen Namekoki road (Route 203) from Pontoon road to Mitchell is under study by Granite City Council.

It was presented Monday night, and council members referred it to Assistant City Atty. Harry Hartman to obtain easements for a tie-in project—the widening and paving of West Pontoon road from the rail crossing to the paved, four-lane county road.

Mayor Partney pointed out this would be the last chance for the city to secure state highway funds for this project, which was stalled twice when the state offered to do the job with the improvement of the north section of Namekoki road and again with the improvement of the south section of Namekoki road.

The mayor advised council members that seven property owners on the north side of West Pontoon road have large citrus trees that would have to be removed for the roadway widening.

Easement Difficulties
"We have no problem on the south side—the Lybargers are willing to go along with the widening, but two western and a real estate man have been unsuccessful in getting the easements on the north side." The task later had been assigned to the department of the city.

The easement project first was proposed for City Atty. Scrogins, but he replied he had no time to do the job.

"What do you mean?" Nonn asked. "That man is paid $12,000 a year and the assistant gets $6000." However, the council voted to assign the job to Assistant City Atty. Hartman.

Under the city-state agreement, the state would handle the entire Namekoki road widening project, but the city would be required to pay the added $15,000 cost for increasing the size of a drainage line from the original 42-inch pipe to 60 inches. The line would serve the intersection, Ball and Venice avenue.

New Head Named For SIU Dept. on Law Enforcement

An educator with police experience, Melvin Wallace, of the Los Angeles county sheriff's department, was named head of the new law enforcement degree program in corrections and law enforcement at the SIU Vocational-Technical Institute, Carbondale.

Wallace, 38, arrived at VTI at the start of the winter term as assistant professor and faculty chairman of the program. He had been serving in Hartford, Conn., as criminal justice planner and director of the Planning Committee on Criminal Administration.

A native of New York City, he holds the associate of arts degree from Los Angeles City College, bachelor of arts in police science and sociology from California State University at Los Angeles and master of science in community organization from Adelphi University, Long Island.

Wallace has been a deputy sheriff in Los Angeles county while studying at the London School of Economics.

The VTI program which Wallace now heads opened three years ago as the first of its kind in Illinois and one of only six in the nation. It offers three options to train officers in prison, police and probation work.

Receives Promotion

Sgt. Daniel R. Hill, 19, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hill of Route One, has been promoted to his present rank in Vietnam where he has been serving with the 1st Air Cavalry Division since July 1969. He expects to be released from service next July.

Strikes Parked Auto

An auto driven by Floyd D. Harland, 1500 Delmar avenue, who was backing out of a driveway at 13 Nassau street, skidded into the rear of an auto parked across the street last Sunday night, he reported Monday.

chairman of that committee, said the members had fulfilled their obligation in the handling of the sanitary and storm water sewer projects assigned to it.

"Why pass the buck?" Schulz asked.

Partney replied that the council was always challenging his authority, so he felt the council should do it. "I'm just backing off so as not to overstep my authority," he added.

With that comment, Alderman Robertson entered the discussion and pointed out there are some tasks for the city's executive officer to carry out and that he did not agree always with the way the office was conducted.

"Why don't you take care of the job?" he asked.

Partney answered, "It's up to the council since it wants to run the whole show. However, I will meet with the Namekoki board."

The proposed Route 203 improvement would extend a distance of 12,500 feet, including 1765 feet in the city limits, and would consist of four 12-foot traffic lanes and a median.

The present two-lane roadway is 18 feet wide. The improvement currently is tied up in the federal freeze of highway funds for this area.

In other action pertaining to motor fuel tax projects, resolution to be forwarded to the state for use of MFT funds for local street projects were approved despite protests by Alderman Nonn, who said the city's motor fuel tax funds were not adequate for all such projects.

The proposed projects—subject to state highway approval—total $22,500. Included are: extensive 30-foot surfaces, curbs and gutters and drainage for Spring avenue from Wabash to Prairie avenue; Bremen avenue from Wabash to Prairie and Ferguson from Wabash to Prairie, each costing an estimated $7500.

There was a heated exchange between Alderman Partney and Nonn over the extended improvement of Johnson road—also a motor fuel tax project.

Nonn called for a report on the status of the Johnson road improvement program by next Monday night. He noted that easements are needed, and that with the rapid approach of spring, time was of the essence.

"Who do you think you are?" Nonn asked. "You'll get the report when we get the job done."

Strokes Not Hopeless

When a stroke occurs, perhaps the hardest thing the patient must fight is a feeling of hopelessness and despair, but strokes are not hopeless, the Illinois Heart Association points out.

"In the past 10 years," an association official said, "medical research has given us many effective weapons against stroke: new drugs, surgical procedures and physiotherapy methods which can restore muscle function to even severely disabled stroke patients."

"And the outlook for the future is even brighter."

"A most important weapon at the service of the stroke patient is the own determination to recover—to strike back at fate. One good example of how such determination pays off is Louis Pasteur, the French chemist whose numerous contributions literally shaped modern biological science."

"During Pasteur's lifetime (1822-1895), practically nothing could be done for the stroke patient except to let Nature take its course. Yet Pasteur lived and worked for 27 years after he had suffered a 'big stroke' at the age of 48."

"What's more, much of his best work was done in this period in which, it is reported he had another 30 'little strokes.' Refusing to throw in the towel, Pasteur went on to make scientific history as the founder of microbiology and the principal architect of the concept of germ-caused diseases."

"We honor his memory every time we take a container of pasteurized milk from the refrigerator, or uncork a fine French vintage wine, product of vineyards saved from disaster by Pasteur's studies in fermentation."

"In our own time, perhaps the most famous persons who have survived strokes to continue their important work were Sir Winston Churchill and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Sir Winston was stricken at age 79 during his final term as Britain's Prime Minister. He lived for about a dozen years thereafter."

Pasteur, during his second term as President, Mr. Eisenhower had a stroke which was mild and transitory in its effects. He made an excellent recovery and soon returned for three more years of what is often called the most strenuous job in the world. He lived into his 79th year, dying in 1969."

Ogilvie Visits Stateville

Gov. Ogilvie has awarded $25 U. S. Savings Bonds to five honor students in a course on investments conducted at Stateville Penitentiary, Joliet.

Marking the first visit of an Illinois governor to the maximum-security prison since 1964, Ogilvie spent three hours speaking with prison employees, visiting offices of the new Pardon and Parole Board, touring the honor farm and reviewing the institution's educational and rehabilitation facilities.

Of the prison's 4000 inmates, 110 enrolled in the eight-week course on investment principles and stock market procedure—the first of its kind in the nation. Ogilvie commended the 110 for showing "an impressive potential for success in the business world." He said he hoped "to interest hundreds of Illinois business, industrial and trade experts in a broad new program to help open the door to immediate employment for men discharged from prison."

$42.2 Million Federal Grant
Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie announced this week that Illinois has received $42,287,100 in federal funds for sewage treatment works construction. He said this is the largest amount the state has ever received for pollution control. Of the amount, $21,143,500 was assigned to downstate projects.

Recreation Areas Projects

Gov. Richard Ogilvie has approved the release of $1,332,266 to pay part of the cost of construction of boat launching ramps, parking areas for cars and trailers and access roads for the projects at state recreation areas throughout Illinois.

Plan Hearings on Air Quality Standards

New statewide air quality standards approved by the Illinois Air Pollution Control Board will soon be presented in public hearings, Clarence W. Klassen, the board's technical secretary, is announcing.

"Public hearings are necessary before such regulations can become effective. The meetings will give both industry and private citizens the opportunity to make applicable comment," Klassen said adding that at least two hearings on the standards will be held.

GRANITE CITY BOARD OF REALTORS

The importance of the professional know how!

Your "REALTOR" is your dependable servant.

Realtors are trained in the art of salesmanship. I and believe us, it is an art. His board of sales techniques has shown him how to be the effective buyer to make up his mind; how to close the sale. In fact, he's gone to school to find out. After all, selling is what it's all about.

Formal negotiations.

What happens when a prospective buyer makes you an offer—one that's well below the asking price? You're going to argue. And that's the worst thing you could do.

ONLY MEMBERS OF THE G.C.
BOARD OF REALTORS ARE LISTED ON THIS PAGE

A Realtor will screen the prospects. He'll know their needs, desires and financial situation. And he'll know who is seriously looking for a home and who is just looking.

Best of all, he'll show your house only when it's convenient for you.

That beautiful art.

Okay, Tiger, you're selling your own home. You know the needs and desires of your prospective buyers. And you know what to say, how to present your home to convince them. Right? Wrong.

As a principal, you'll discover it's pretty hard to bargain with a buyer—to negotiate about such things as price, terms and possessions. Misunderstandings may crop up. And those small disagreements can spoil a sale.

When a Realtor helps sell your home, he takes on the difficult task of negotiation. He's sort of a go-between and advisor. And he's objective. He'll tell you what the buyer is right. And he'll tell you what to stick to your guns.

He's usually a heck of a nice guy, too. He knows how to smooth over, or completely avoid, those sale-killing misunderstandings.

116 Local Band Students to Play in County Band Festival at GCHS Saturday

Hundreds of music students from nine Madison county districts will converge Saturday on Granite City high school for the 21st annual Red Band and Junior High Band Festival, an event which combines a day-long music clinic and a public concert.

About 116 pupils from Granite City and Madison schools will join youthful musicians from Collinsville, Granite City, Highland and Rosina school districts and St. Bernard and St. Boniface parochial schools. Students arriving here at 8 a.m. Saturday will be assigned to one of three separate band groups. Seventh, eighth and ninth grade pupils will form the Blue and Red Bands, with fifth and sixth grade participants combined into the White Band.

The three participating bands, each composed of youngsters from different schools, will perform in the public concert at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the auditorium of the high school. A 50-cent admission fee will be charged adults and 25 cents for children to attend the concert.

Numbers Planned

Numbers to be played by the specific groups include: White Band—"Hedaway March," by H. Bennett; "Little Baroque Suite," by P. Gordon; "Hedaway," by J. Playfair; "Hedaway to Bedchamber," by John Kinyon.

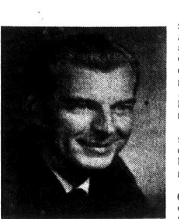

Blue Band—"Gallant Men," by J. Cavacas; "Overture for Wind," by E. Carter; "Tropical Twilight," by Eric Osterlin; and "Star Spangled Spectacular," by G. M. Linn. Red Band—"Aria Nova," by T. Myers; "Heritage Overture," by J. A. Cavallini; "Fountain's Rainbow," by Harburg-Lane, arranged by Yoder; and the S.B.A. March by J. B. Linn. Guest director for the 1970 County Band Festival will be Gene Stiman, director of the stage band at Southern Illinois University-Carbondale campus and instructor of low brass (trombone, baritone and tuba) at SIU-Carbondale.

A musician with a widely-diversified background, Stiman received a Bachelor of Music Education degree from SIU in 1962 and a Master of Science in Music Education degree at the University of Illinois, Urbana, in 1967. Prior to joining the SIU faculty in 1965, he was the band director for grade and junior high schools at Salem, Ill.

As an Air Force sergeant in world war II, the guest conductor held first chair color guard positions in concert and dance bands, taking part in wartime "Buy Bonds" campaigns in "Winged Victory" films, and many USO productions. From 1946 to 1949, he traveled with various dance bands of the era, including the Benny Goodman band.

Stiman has been guest soloist, clinician and guest conductor throughout central and southern Illinois, Missouri and Indiana and has served as a contest adjudicator in the three states. Author of several teaching articles, published in "School Musician," the SIU educator also composes and arranges music for the SIU stage band and composed for recording.

Will Have Installed Control Facilities

Required by the state Sanitary Water Board, which has responsibility for the river.

These suits by the state attorney general and the U.S. attorney, Berggren said, "have not been requested by the agencies charged with pollution control. The agencies appear to be based on public and political rather than on any plan to control pollution. The suits are based on no plan."

The I.M.A. spokesman emphasized that industry is not fighting pollution control or denying the need for it. In fact, he said, industrial managers recognize the problem and want to clean up their share of the contaminants contributing to it.

He stressed that more rapid progress could be made if industry had "one master to serve and one set of rules to follow."

The I.M.A. board resolution provides in part:

Standards Affect Design

"In order for an industrial firm to intelligently build control facilities, it should know what pollution standards it must design to meet."

"What is needed is a single, strong state authority that will set desired air and water quality standards, establish definite rules to attain them, and be adequately financed to do the job."

The I.M.A. secretary said that although "industry is moving faster in correcting its problems than the public realizes," the present "mess of conflicting and overlapping rules and authorities could lead to increased industrial damage to do nothing about pollution until it is definitely decided who is the boss and what are the rules."

Paddlers Name Firm To Manage Pools

The executive board members of Paddlers Swim Club voted to secure the services of the Midwest Pool Management Corp. to manage the local pool for the 1970 season. The action was taken during a meeting Tuesday evening at St. Elizabeth Hospital library.

Dr. Benjamin R. O'se, vice-president, presided at the business session in the absence of Robert Connaux, president.

The Midwest Pool Management Corp. has managed 25 pools in this area during the 1969 season. They supply a two-page list of safety procedures for employees and a one-page list, to be posted at the pool, for swimmers. Each guard is graded on rescue performance, first aid, artificial respiration, and how fast he can telephone a child's parents.

Board members attending the meeting were:

Medames L. Venka Meyer, Betty Harmon, Jo Ann Kalert, Henrietta Odum, and Jerry Range. Art Hoff, Dick Pittenger, Charles Gauen, Bob Voss, Al Malotki, Bob Becherer, Henry Lamb, Fred Cunningham and Charles Barth.
